Upcoming Meeting

Construction at the intersection by the church has gotten far enough along so that it's possible to get into the parking lot from either road.

The big Round Robin REVEAL! 14 quilt tops with members' many different choices for borders. If you are bringing yours in – or one for someone else – please leave them in the kitchen.

Since we didn't meet in July, we should have lots of quilts to Show and Tell. We'll leave this meeting with ideas for future quilts.

Notes from Nadine (and her crew )

We have some exciting plans coming up for the rest of 2019:

- August: We will be revealing the Round Robin quilts that everyone has been working on for the past few months. Barb Knappenberger will teach us how to make labels for our quilts. Then Carolyn Ray will introduce her program for September.
- September: Carolyn Ray will teach us how to quilt on a domestic machine. Bring one or two quilt sandwiches (18 to 20 inches square) consisting of three layers: a solid fabric, batting and a second solid fabric. Supplies needed include a sewing machine that allows you to drop the feed dogs, an open toe foot and contrasting thread.
- October: Janet Slocum and Barb Knappenberger will present a bed turning. Find your antique quilts and share them with us.

- • November: We will be making Christmas ornaments and you will have a choice to make your ornament out of wool or fabric. Kits will be supplied.
- • December: Christmas Party! Stay tuned for more details.
